

Using Activities on Remind

Get invitations for activities like field trips, events, fundraisers, and item sales—right on Remind.

When you receive an activity invitation, you can...

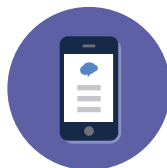

RSVP right away

No permission slip? No problem. An invitation is just like any other Remind message, so you can respond on the app, by text, or by email.

Use Remind to pay for your activity online

Send money without hunting down a checkbook or finding exact change. Pay with your credit or debit card—all of your information is protected by bank-level security.

Coordinate plans with other participants

Use the group conversation to make sure everyone's on the same page. Stay on top of updates and connect with others to figure out volunteers, rides, and other logistics.

To see the activities you're invited to or create your own, go to Remind.com to get started.